Kappa Kappa Gamma Celebrates 100 Years at the University of Arizona

On January 3rd, 1920, 24 women were integral in petitioning for a Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter on the University of Arizona campus. On this date, Kappa Kappa Gamma was installed by Grand President Lydia Voris Kolbe, as KKG's 55th chapter and the story began...

Gamma Zeta has grown tremendously since those early days. Recruitment classes have grown from a mere 17 "pledges" to 110 "new members". Ninety-five live-in residents now grace the remodeled rooms in the main house and apartments, and the beautifully updated, enlarged chapter room holds every member comfortably.

Not much has changed at Gamma Zeta. Academics, philanthropy, and sisterhood have all been the focus for Gamma Zeta since the 1930s. Our senior classes continue to thrive as graduating members have increased from only 1 to 7 women a year in the 1920s, to 60 plus seniors walking to receive their diplomas and continuing on to exciting internships or careers.

Gamma Zeta is one of three sororities (Kappa Alpha Theta and Pi Beta Phi) who celebrate their hundred year anniversary at the University of Arizona. Out of those three, it is the only sorority to start at the University of Arizona with a chapter house of their own.

What a wonderful and once in a lifetime opportunity to celebrate and reconnect with college friends. The memories of those 4 years are sure to come flooding back to life as you visit and reminisce about your "good ol' Kappa days". We so look forward to seeing you at the Gamma Zeta Centennial Celebration!!

Letter from the President

I am extremely proud to be a part of this organization. We put academic excellence and service at the forefront of our member experience while still having a great time with each other. Our members come from all different walks of life and backgrounds who contribute to a diverse and exciting group of women. We have members who participate in almost all major student organizations across campus such as clubs, honoraries, sports teams, and more.

Together, our members volunteer thousands of hours of their time at many different local and national organizations outside of our own philanthropies. We have women who are involved in pushing for change not only on campus, but for our nation as well. I am continually shocked and motivated by the accomplishments that come from our members who each bring a unique presence to our chapter and to our campus as a whole. Coming together as one, our organization is filled with empowering, independent, compassionate, and inspiring young women who contribute to this sisterhood an unconditional love and support for one another as they each navigate this scary thing we call “adulthood” together.

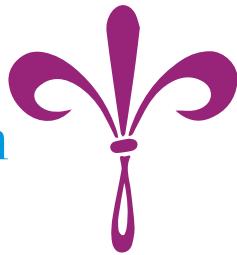

Deciding to go through sorority recruitment, for me, was a very difficult decision. I wasn't sure if I was going to have the time, or money, to fully immerse myself in the experience and get what I wanted most out of it. Now, entering my fourth year of college and sorority membership, I think back to the things Kappa has brought me that have positively shaped me and helped me grow into the person I am today, and how it has been more than worth it. Not only have I gained lifelong friends whose perspectives, experiences, and unwavering support have impacted me greatly; I have also gained life skills pertaining to my leadership, academics, drive, understanding of others, and many more that I know I will carry with me for the rest of my life. Joining a sorority and making the most of this experience has allowed me to blossom into a version of myself I never knew could exist.

I'm grateful for all of my time in Kappa Kappa Gamma and I'm so excited to see our chapter grow and excel even more this year. I hope you enjoy learning more about us and the amazing opportunities we have to offer! We are thankful to be a part of the University of Arizona, the Tucson community, and the Greek Life system.

Loyally,

Cassandra Tomchak '16
2019 President
Gamma Zeta Chapter

Letter from the House Corporation

Dear Gamma Zeta Sisters,

It is my honor to serve as the new President of the Gamma Zeta Building Association or "House Board." When I pledged the Gamma Zeta chapter over 30 years ago never did I imagine I would one day serve in this capacity yet I am so excited to be part of this group of intelligent, dedicated and passionate women.

The House Board is busy all year long. From August through May our focus and time is spent with the members to address current business and plan for summer work. As soon as summer begins, the summer projects begin too. This affords us the access and time to address larger projects. The work we identified this summer included landscaping and refreshing the apartments. The apartments are getting a fresh coat of paint on the walls, new light fixtures, new window coverings and updated flooring. Last summer, the living room was given an update and it now has a chic contemporary yet inviting look. As a result, we needed to refresh the dining room this summer by updating the tables and chairs among other things. All in all the house will be clean crisp and ready to welcome back the wonderful young women who call it home. It's a lot to do in three short months.

As we head into fall our focus will go back to the overall day-to-day operations. We also have two exciting events on the calendar: Homecoming and the Centennial Celebration, which is our signature event scheduled for January 2020. Details for both can be found in the newsletter. Please plan to join us!

Love and Loyalty,

Theresa Mansour Marquart '87

Gamma Zeta Supports Our Community

Gamma Zeta's annual philanthropy, Hoops for Hope, occurs during the spring semester and supports a different cause each year. Members of the chapter present philanthropies that have personally impacted their lives and educate the chapter on how the money raised will be impactful to the cause and the people that the organization supports. This year, the chapter voted to donate all proceeds to Lighthouse for Hope, which is a local Arizona organization that provides support for families fighting pediatric cancer. They donate meals, gas cards, clothing, supplies, and other necessities that insurance does not cover, as well as contribute to the payment of overwhelming bills. They are also passionate about becoming a support system for the children and families affected. The organization hit close to home for one of our members who has fought and defeated an extremely rare type of pediatric cancer and now has a personal connection to the cause by helping other families overcome the difficulties that she once faced.

Hoops for Hope is a well-known event on the University of Arizona campus and is a 3 on 3 basketball tournament full of food, prizes, and music that hosted around 1,200 participants this year. Additionally, Kappa Karnival, a new event to Gamma Zeta, was an event held at the Kappa house the night before Hoops for Hope and further acted to involve the entire community and bring awareness to our philanthropy. There was kettle corn, cotton candy, a dunk tank, a henna artist, and basketball jerseys for sale. Both events were extremely successful and, in total, raised over $32,000. Gamma Zeta was incredibly honored and dedicated to raising awareness and helping fundraise a substantial amount of money for such an incredible and deserving organization, Lighthouse for Hope.

Loretta McCarthy '65

Loretta is a Gamma Zeta 1965 initiate. She wasn't the only Kappa, her three sisters were also Kappas. The sisterhood is something that cannot be broken and can be recognized around the world. She was extremely involved during her college experience. Loretta served as the pledge class president and then went on to become the chapter president. Not only was she involved in Kappa, she was also on the Student Union Activity Board. Her fondest memory from college was being surrounded by the most accomplished students. "Kappa was full of an incredible group of women. These remarkable members went on to do amazing things."

Loretta currently resides in New York where she runs an investment firm, Golden Seeds. She frequently speaks about early stage investing, women entrepreneurs and gender diversity here in the United States and internationally. Loretta's favorite thing about Kappa are the values. They are enduring. "You can experience them everywhere you go, connect with other active chapters. Being a Kappa means you can always lock into a similar set of values, unfailingly gratifying." Not only is she an inspiring woman, she also is a dedicated Gamma Zeta. Loretta stayed involved with Kappa Kappa Gamma by being a traveling counselor after college. This earned her a graduate fellowship which she continued her education in Colorado. She received her MBA while living in the Kappa House in Boulder, Colorado. Loretta visited Kappa Kappa Gamma last fall to see the renovations to the house. She was thrilled with the newest addition to the house. Inspirational, dedicated and giving, Loretta continues to contribute and live the Kappa values.
